Event: Technoholic –Project Exhibition

Glimpses of projects of Technoholic 2023:

- Online Registration System for Event

The development of a face recognition app designed to streamline the registration process for students attending events. The app leverages advanced face recognition technology to identify students, eliminating the need for traditional ID checks and manual data entry. This project aimed to create an efficient, secure, and user-friendly system. The student fills out the form with all their details, such as name, college name, competitions they plan to participate in, and all their information is stored in the database. Registration does not require manual entry of participants. When registering, the participant's face is captured by the application using the camera, then it is cross-checked against the database and the registration is completed. A unique registration number is then assigned to each participant competition-by-competition.

- Talkative Robot-

Talkative robot was designed by using Raspberry PI. When any object is detected, the robot will speak with the pre-recorded statement. The robot will also detect the distance from the object and the brightness of the object. It can adjust its tone of voice depending on the distance. If the object is too close, the robot will sound louder and if it is far away, it will sound softer.

- Clapping Lamp-

A clapping lamp, often referred to as a clap-activated lamp was designed by students. It is a type of smart device that allows users to control the light by clapping their hands. This type of lamp includes a sound sensor that detects the specific sound pattern of clapping and switches the light on or off in response.

- Event Inauguration via Mobile app

Mobile app was developed by the students for inauguration of Technoholic event. Students created a mobile application for the Technoholic event launch. When a Guest presses the button on the smartphone app, the curtains open. Mobile app was made through Arduino technology with DC motors.

- VFX Effects:

Through VFX effects all participants could get the feel of virtual reality effects.

- Automatic Feedback Box :

Using ultrasonic sensors and Arduino, automatic feedback box could collect feedback by opening the box lid automatically on detecting the motion.

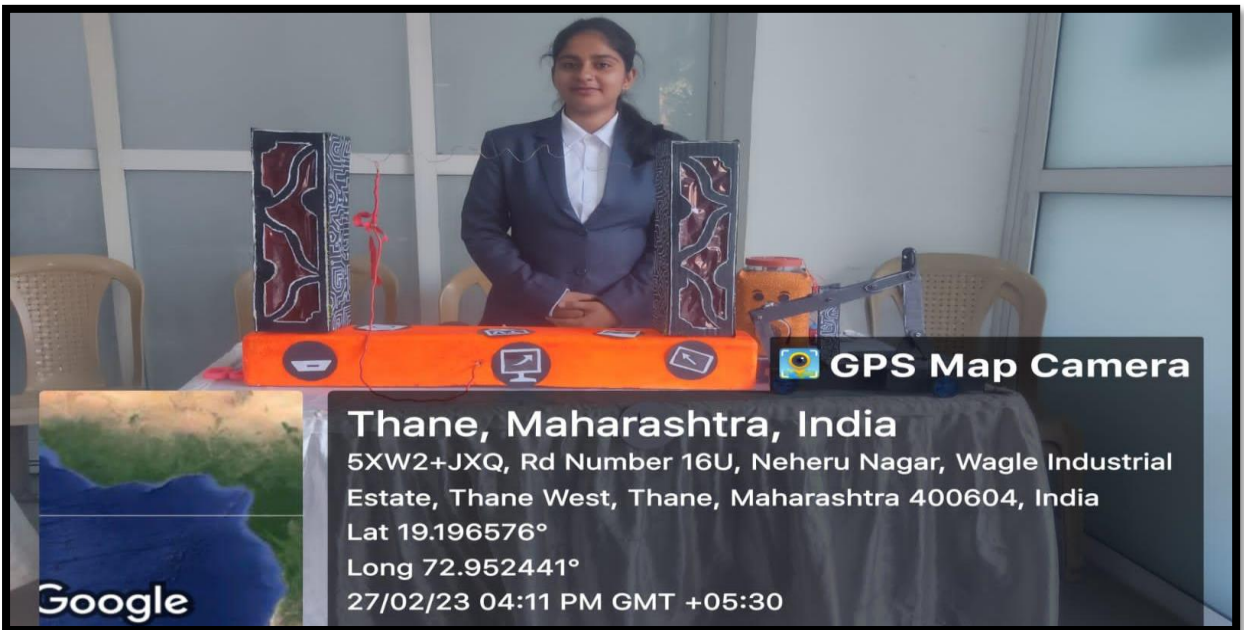

- Smart Garbage System:
- This project was made by keeping in mind the segregation of wet and dry garbage. It successfully helped in segregating garbage and served the social cause.
- Automatic plant watering system :
This project is developed to start water pump on checking moisture of soil. If soil is wet then it won't start pump else it will start the pump. This was done using Arduino and Soil moisture sensor.
- Certificate Delivery System :
Automatic certificate delivery trolley was the attraction of Technoholic23. Automatic Moving Certificate trolley was made with the intension of touch free delivery system using Arduino. It saved the efforts of stage managing committee to deliver certificates manually to winners.
